1. On 2 March 1954, the Panzer Kaserne (1161) in Borna quartered about 1,200 to 1,500 tank troops. There was intensive training activity on the morning of 2 March. In the afternoon, troops engaged in maintenance work on 10 to 12 trucks parked at the open garages. Two trucks apparently practiced driving. Although no tanks could be observed, there were fresh imprints of tank tracks at the southern gate of the installation. several tanks left the installation toward Flossberg between 7 and 8 p.m. on several days.
